

Madelyn began her dancing career as a student of Tammy Taylor and began assisting with classes in High School. After graduation, she began furthering her education to become a dance instructor and is now a certified member of both Dance Masters and The Cecchetti Council. She obtained a minor in Dance at Kent State University and is now an assistant and instructor at Tamala Taylor's Academy of Dance, where she grew up.